

General Time-Series Harness

Reusable temporal obligations sit between a general runtime and a task contract.

A temporal mechanism is General Time-Series Harness when its contract survives a change of downstream task.